 - Halloween is on October 31. It is also called All Saints' Eve. This is because, according to some, the holiday has its roots in a Christian holiday that remembers the dead. Others say the holiday has its roots in the ancient harvest season traditions of Ireland. In the U.S. though, the focus is about kids dressing up in scary costumes and going door-to-door asking for candy. Many homeowners decorate their houses to prepare for the holiday and let kids know that they are participating and can ring the bell for candy. Traditional decorations often include lanterns, which are pumpkins with faces carved into them and candles inside.
